195 ROUTE - BENEFIT OR BLIGHT?

Route 195 has two distinct and separate possibilities for the future of the towns of Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester. Properly located, the highway can serve the towns and benefit their growth, or the highway can cut the towns into two separated parts, check future growth and hurt residential areas which are already in existence. Both routes now planned by the Department of Public Works may permanently damage the towns of Mattapoisett and Marion and would benefit Rochester not at all. The Planning Boards of these towns, comprised of residents of the towns, are quite naturally concerned that the highway will be beneficial to the towns. Now, while the route is in the sketchiest preliminary form, is the time for the citizens to express their wishes so that the best possible route can be chosen for this highway. To date, as far as can be learned, the proposed route has been laid out following aerial sightings from a plane by the Department of Public Works. Those of us who live on the ground and who will have to live with this highway permanently should now consider its impact for now and the future. Dartmouth, faced with a similar problem from the same highway, demonstrated the serious effect of a location chosen by the State, and they were successful in having this same highway changed to a location which would not damage the town.

Mattapoisett has nowhere to grow except north. Some excellent residential areas are being developed in the area bounded by North Street, River Road, Route 6 and Park Street. This area is being rapidly filled. The new developments will be further north such as the one now in existence north of the railroad bed. Consider the effect of the Route 195 should it be placed in the area as is now proposed. There would be only two ways to cross 195 which would then split the town into two sections of almost equal area. One crossing would be at Crystal Spring Road and the other would be at North Street. Access from one part of the town to the other as well as access to 195 would then make North Street a major artery. This increased burden of traffic, which must occur from both directions may well have an effect on the future of North Street. The residential sections now built or building north of Route 6 to Park Street might also suffer from the close proximity of a highway carrying heavy traffic. Now one can forecast with certainty what the effect would be on future development north of a 195 in such a location but one thing is certain - An integrated community conveniently laced by streets and roads is more to be desired than one split into two distinct sections by a barrier which will be permanent.

If this were the only possible route for the highway then it would be easier to understand the choice as it now stands. However, the Planning Boards of the three towns have proposed a route which is shorter, straighter, leaves the towns intact, crosses high, level, undeveloped land, crosses the boundaries of all three towns and thus would serve them all better and one which would not pass in the vicinity of residential developments which are already in being. This route, being straighter, shortens the road at a saving of a million dollars. Following a more natural curve, it would be in previously undeveloped land that would stimulate development in new territory. Development that would be in keeping with the proximity of a highway which would be started from scratch, naturally and logically. It would be an opportunity for a new business section as well as stimulation for a northward growth of residential property. It would open the door to the new section rather than walling off the same area. This same reasoning applies to Marion. The same consequences of the present route of the road, as proposed, would be true in that town. A route to the north would benefit rather than detract from that town and would spare Washburn Park from destruction. It would prevent the town from an unnatural division in its mid-section. It would open territory to development. Rochester (now cut off by a considerable distance by the State proposed route of 195) would be enormously benefitted by easy access to the highway in the route which is favored by the towns.

The townspeople of the three towns certainly will want to consider these routes carefully and form an opinion. To be of value this opinion must reach the proper agency. Personal letters carry far more weight than petitions. Write to Public Works Commissioner Jack P. Ricciardi, State Department of Public Works, 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Mass.; also State Senator Allan Jones, Hyannis Road, Barnstable, Mass. or Representative Edwin H. OUTING HELD IN HONOR OF MATTAPOISETT GREENS LITTLE LEAGUE TEAM

The Mattapoisett Greens Little League Baseball Team was feted by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lafrance at the Lafrance residence on Mattapoisett Neck at an all day affair which started at 10 A.M. The day started with a touch football game and progress to swimming until the hostess, Mrs. Lafrance, sounded the dinner bell and the boys, coaches and scorer came running to a gigantic feast of outdoor cooking.

Mrs. Lafrance was assisted in preparations by her daughter, Nancy, with son Allen taking part with the heavier chores.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, potato chips and watermelon and lemonade were consumed in tremendous amounts by the hungry boys, coaches and other guests as well.

After a short rest a baseball game was started by one group, and touch football continued by another group, more swimming and boating ensued.

At 5:00 the cars were loaded and after many good-byes, the boys started home.

another of the 19 Councils of the United Commercial Travelers of America in the state-- Governor Peabody's request for a one-cent rise in the state gasoline tax is most discouraging.

There is no group of citizens in the Commonwealth harder hit by the gasoline tax than the commercial travelers. To them the automobile is as essential as is a stethoscope to a doctor. These folks are mostly salesmen who must, because of the nature of their work, depend wholly upon the automobile for transportation.

Even in cases where they are reimbursed for this travel-- and in many cases they are not reimbursed-- the mileage rate is not likely to be increased because of a one-cent increase in the gasoline tax. Thus they would be expected to pay the added cost out of their own pockets. To a man who drives 20,000 to 30,000 or more miles per year, and there are many in this category, the additional out-of-pocket expense would be considerable.

The commercial traveler wants good roads and is willing to pay his full share of their cost. He feels he is already doing this through all the special taxes and fees he has to pay, at all levels of government.

Which brings up another point. It wouldn't be quite so bad if the highway user knew he was getting his full value in roads for his tax dollars.

But the recent charges by the Blatnik Congressional Committee indicate millions of dollars in highway funds have been lost to the state forever because of waste, inefficiency and downright graft and corruption. This is enough to make all decent people sick. Because of this, the Federal government, as I understand it, is still withholding millions of dollars from our state in federal aid money to which we are entitled.

Doesn't this add up to a very sorry picture, indeed? Yet, despite it all, the motor vehicle owner is being asked to cough up $15 million more per year (the equivalent of a one-cent increase in the state gasoline tax)..... and with no assurance the money will be safeguarded any more carefully than before!

This is ridiculous.

Sincerely,

Neath the blue dome of His sky,
We gather here to worship God.

We view them from afar.
His majesty surrounds us

It comes from o'er the mountain,
It sweeps across the glen,

It whispers thru the branching trees,
And then I pray - "amen".

What wondrous healing power
It's sweet brief message brings!

It has blown away my cares and woes
And now my whole heart sings.

Neath the whispering of the stately trees
And the twilight of the sky,
We bow our heads, and thank our God.
